NSW Child Death Review Team Annual Report 2022-23 tabled

The NSW Ombudsman and Convenor of the NSW Child Death Review Team (CDRT) Paul Miller tabled the NSW Child Death Review Team Annual Report 2022-23 in Parliament today.

- the team's functions and purpose
- current research projects aimed at preventing or reducing the likelihood of child deaths
- other activities, and information disclosures as prescribed in the Act
- responses by agencies to CDRT recommendations, and their progress towards implementation
- CDRT strategic priorities.

The CDRT is responsible for registering, classifying, analysing, and reporting to the NSW Parliament on data and trends relating to all deaths of children aged 0-17 years in NSW. Its purpose is to prevent or reduce the likelihood of deaths of children in NSW through the exercise of our functions under Part 5A of the Act.
