

Host your own PID Awareness Week event

PID Awareness Week aims to raise awareness and understanding of the Public Interest Disclosures Act 2022 (PID Act) and why it is important to build a speak-up culture.

Over the week, we would encourage you to think about how you could raise staff awareness of the importance of reporting wrongdoing. In particular we have set aside Wednesday 13th August following our morning panel session to encourage you to hold your own internal events.

This could include:

- a message of support from the head of your agency
- lunch time information sessions
- distributing PID awareness videos
- a physical or digital noticeboard for staff to say what speaking up means to them, or
- setting aside time for PID training.

These can all help to improve integrity and accountability in our agencies.
